

Just Dare Enough to Walk

When your heart is about to cry
Like the lands parched and dry
Alive enough to wait
Yet dying to look for break
Just dare enough to walk
With no one beside to talk
Keen enough to watch
Yet solitary in your thoughts
Perhaps you would see me

Would you catch my clues
When I make the Earth change hues?
I'll come before it rains
In hide and seek games
I'll cheer you up 'n make you smile
Lift you in my flight for a while
Amid lights and thunders loud
In form of shadows of the clouds
I'll come, just dare enough to walk
