

The Promise

There is a promise that I keep
That I have not made to someone
That I have not told to anyone
That even that someone doesn't know –
About my not making it
That I don't even tell to myself –
Lest I should make it in my heart!
And yet, it is the best promise that I have ever kept.